Webinar: R&D Tax Credit

Presented by Jim Heilman and Julie Helms, Clifton Larson Allen LLP

Discover how the Research & Development (R&D) Tax Credit can create valuable tax-saving opportunities for agricultural businesses. This webinar will provide an overview of the credit, including eligibility requirements, qualifying expenses, and common agricultural applications. Through case studies, presenters will demonstrate how farmers may benefit from this often-overlooked tax incentive and how educators can incorporate this information into tax planning discussions with their clients and students.
